DR. GOLDSBOROUGH TAKEN BY DEATH

Adams County Physician and Farmer Veteran of the Civil War and an Early Emigrant to California, Died at his Home.

Dr. Charles E. Goldsborough, one of Adams County's most generally known residents, died this morning at half past five o'clock at his residence, Hunterstown, after an illness of three weeks aged 78 years, 10 months and 2 days. He suffered from a form of indigestion but was confined to his bed for only the past six days.
Always keenly concerned in current happenings and an interesting narrator of the events of a long and eventful life, Dr. Goldsborough has for many years been recognized as one of the county's best informed men. He had a large acquaintanceship and the news of his death will be received with general regret all over the county.

Dr. Goldsborough was a descendant of distinguished ancestry. His paternal ancestors were seated at Goldsborough Hall, Yorkshire, England, on several calls of land granted to the head of the family by William the Conqueror. Robert Goldsborough, the great grandfather, though educated at Middle Temple in London, headed the Maryland Delegation in the First and Second Continental Congresses that met in Carpenter's Hall, Philadelphia, in 1774-1776. He voted for the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, but, as the declaration was ordered to be engrossed and was not signed until August 2, following, a sickness that soon proved fatal prevented his being present at that time and it was signed for him by his successor, Charles Carroll.

Dr. Goldsborough was born at Graceham, Maryland, on December 16, 1834, the son of Leander W., and Sarah Dunkin Goldsborough. After crossing the plains with an ox-team during the emigration to California in 1853, he returned via Cape Horn, the following year and commenced the practice of medicine in Hunterstown in 1855. On March 4th, 1857 he married Miss Mary McC. Neely. She died three years later, leaving a daughter who later became Mrs. James F. Bell and is now living at Hunterstown.

Soon after the Battle of Ball's Bluff he entered the United States Army at Frederick and served with distinction throughout the war. He was captured at the Battle of Winchester, June 15, 1863 by his brother, William, who was serving as Major of the Second Maryland Infantry, C. S. A., and sent to Libby Prison where he was confined until the November following. Dr. Goldsborough was wounded in the siege of Petersburg July 1864, and, being unfit to continue in the service on account of sickness contracted in the line of duty, he was assigned to Lincoln Hospital at Washington until August 1865 when he returned to Hunterstown, resumed his practice of general medicine and engaged extensively in farming.

November 14, 1866 he married Miss Alice E. McCreery, who survives with the following children, Miss Alice Le-nore Goldsborough and Miss Frances Goldsborough, of New York City; Mrs. Neva Gibson, Philadelphia; Miss Jennie Goldsborough, of Philadelphia; and Miss Katharine Goldsborough, E. W. Goldsborough, Charles Goldsborough and Nicholas Goldsborough, at home.

The funeral services will be held from his late home at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment will be made in Evergreen Cemetery with services conducted by Corporal Skelly Post 9, G. A. R., of which he was a member. Friends will accept this as an invitation to attend.

AUGUSTUS G. STONESIFER

Augustus G. Stonesifer died of a complication of diseases at his late home in York Thursday, aged 54 years, 4 months and 21 days.

He was a son of the late James Stonesifer, of McSherrystown, where he was born and spent his early life. He went to York about 30 years ago and a few years later married Miss Lillie Ernst, of that city. He leaves a widow and four children—Blanche, James, Maude and Dora, all at home; a step-mother, Mrs. Louise Stonesifer, of McSherrystown, and the following step brothers and sisters, Mrs. Guy Small, Charles Stonesifer, of McSherrystown; Samuel Stonesifer, of Reading; Mrs. Lewis S. Culp, of Carlisle; Mrs. Charles Kemper, of Menges Mills, and James Stonesifer, Jr., of White Hall.

RAINY SKIES ON FARMERS' DAY

Weather Man Does his Worst but the Exhibits Come in and the Crowds of Rural People Come too. The Judges at Work.

Everything except the lowering skies pointed to a complete and unqualified success of Gettysburg's second annual Farmers' Day when the first of Adams County's prosperous rural residents came to town this morning with their varied assortment of products to put on display.
Merchants and farmers co-operated to a far greater degree this year in the preliminary preparations and the idea, which last year was a new one, had the united support of all persons concerned from the time of the first announcement several weeks ago. Friday saw the first consignment of contesting articles and early this morning others by the scores were brought in, making the displays complete in every line.

The merchants put forth more efforts this year to make the affair a success. Many had their windows and store rooms decorated with autumn leaves, corn fodder, wheat and other fall-like decorations and these, with the exhibits, made attractive displays.
The judges started their work between nine and ten o'clock this morning and the big task was divided into so many portions that they are expected to finish early in the day, when their awards will be made known at each place of business.

D. M. Minnick, of Chambersburg, is judging all of the fruit. Mr. Minnick is known among the growers of the county as an expert in his line and his decisions should meet with satisfaction. The other judging committees are as follows:

Farm and Garden Products: Arthur Griest, Guernsey; J. I. Hereter, Highland Township; Emory Miller, Straban Township.

Bread and Pastry: Mrs. Arthur Griest, Guernsey; Mrs. J. L. Sheetz, New Oxford; Mrs. Aaron I. Weidner, Arendtsville.

Preserves and Canned Fruit: Mrs. Roy E. Zinn, Gettysburg; Mrs. C. C. Collins, Two Taverns; Mrs. John C. Bream, Highland Township.

Fancy Work: Miss Annie W. Horner, Gettysburg; Mrs. N. C. Trout, Fairfield; Mrs. H. C. Sanders, Biglerville.

Flowers and various odd articles: Miss Emma Schwartz, Cashtown; Mrs. George Baker, Abbottstown; Mrs. Clyde B. Stover, Gettysburg.

Persons wishing to enter their teams for the C. C. Bream prize are requested to report at his place of business, York and Stratton streets, at 2:30 this afternoon.

WOMAN HUNTER

Woman Hunter Shoots Her Six Squirrels on First Day.

Miss Anna Nell, the only licensed woman hunter in Cumberland county and a resident of Allen, near Carlisle, shot six gray squirrels before 10 o'clock on the opening day of the hunting season. The limit is six.

Miss Nell was probably attracted to the field of sport by the idea of a possible bargain. With the natural instinct of a woman, she went all the way to Carlisle to purchase a license from the county treasurer for the sum of $1, when she could have purchased it from the justice of the peace in Allen township for $1.15, saving the trip from Allen to Carlisle. She has her dollar's worth already. Six squirrels for a dollar is a bargain in itself, declare Cumberland county wise-acres.

SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Hunters Get Turkeys and Squirrels in West Virginia.

The most successful hunters this season, in this section, are William P. Devine, and C. F. Moul, of Hanover, and C. E. Miller, of McSherrystown, who went to Wardensville, Hardy county, West Virginia, last Tuesday, in quest of game. They spent two days in that vicinity hunting, and returned with six wild turkeys and forty grey squirrels. The largest turkey weighed 18 pounds, which was shot by Mr. Devine.

HARNEY MAN TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Joseph A. Good well known about Portion of the Country in Vicinity of Harney Takes Acid with Fatal Result. Other Deaths.

Joseph A. Good, formerly of Harney, but lately residing in Havre de Grace, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid, on Tuesday night.

He had been in Baltimore on business, and on his return, at about 8 o'clock, bought from a druggist 10 cents worth of acid, saying that he was tired, and wanted to bathe his feet in water with carbolic acid in it. On reaching his home, he immediately swallowed the poison. He was taken to the Havre de Grace Hospital, where he died on Wednesday afternoon. No cause is known for his rash act.

Mr. Good was a son of the late Daniel Good, of Harney, and was well known in that community, having been engaged as a clerk for the late S. S. Shoemaker, in Harney, B. S. Ferry, in Johnsville, and other places. Of late years he has been conducting a retail clothing store in Havre de Grace.

He was twice married, and is survived by his second wife, and two sons and two daughters by the first wife; also by two sisters, Mrs. John Myers, of Taneytown, and Mrs. Dora Starkweather, of Montclair, N. J. His age was 44 years.

His body was interred at Havre de Grace.

A TANGLED AFFAIR

Is the Mail Situation in McSherrystown According to Report.

A petition is now being circulated to secure free delivery of mail in McSherrystown. If this goes into effect it will do away with the post-office and all mail will go through the Hanover office. It is said that 85 per cent. of the patrons will have to sign before it will be acted upon by the Post Office officials. There is considerable opposition to the movement, because, while free delivery is wanted, the citizens seem anxious to retain their post-office. The doing away of the office would take McSherrystown as a mailing place off the post-office books. All mail would be addressed to Hanover and delivered from that place, with a sub-office at McSherrystown.

The delivery of mail in McSherrystown is now a tangled affair. Many have to go to the office; people on Oxford avenue receive mail from a Hanover rural carrier, as does St. Joseph's convent. The lower end of Main street gets its mail from a Littlestown carrier, and, it is said, two parties residing in the upper part of the borough get their mail from Hanover city carriers.

It is said there are a number of applicants for the post-office, when a change is made, and it is believed the free delivery will not be secured at this time.

THEY ALL CAME HOME

Farmer's Stolen Chickens Come Home to Roost.

Sunday night chicken thieves made a raid on the chicken house of Harry Blubaugh, living on the H. F. Wolfensberger farm, south of Waynesboro and carried off twenty-one fine Rhode Island Red chickens. The chickens were missed Monday morning when Mr. Blubaugh went to feed the poultry. He failed to get a clue to their whereabouts. At sunset one evening later in the week, as Mr. Blubaugh was looking out over the fields he saw a flock of chickens coming over the hill in the direction of his place. He walked toward them and recognized them as his property. Upon seeing that they belonged to him, he locked them up in his coop.

PLANNING FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Committee of Lutheran Assembly Officers Meets here and Decides to Ask for Use of the Seminary Buildings and Campus.

The executive committee of the Lutheran Summer Assembly met here Friday and decided to hold the sessions next Summer from July 30 to August 6.

The following members compose the committee, president, Rev. S. W. Herman, Harrisburg; vice presidents, Dr. J. A. Singmaster and Dr. W. A. W. A. Granville, Gettysburg; secretary, Rev. George N. Lauffer, Newville; treasurer, Rev. J. H. Meyer, Jersey City.

It was decided to petition the Board of Trustees of the Lutheran Theological Seminary for the use of their buildings and campus at the time of the Assembly. The idea is to use the dormitories for sleeping, the Seminary class rooms for the sessions, the refectory for meals, and the campus for the recreation features of the week. It is planned in this way to bring the ministers into closer touch with each other and, in this way, to make the week more profitable and pleasant.

In addition, the Assembly is not to be held at the time of the Chautauqua and there will be no distracting features in this direction. It was felt that to combine the two programs gave the members of the Assembly too much to do, to get the desired benefit, and it was deemed best to have both as separate and distinct events.

At Friday's meeting of the committee a tentative program was discussed but nothing definite was decided upon.

GIVES BOYS A TREAT

Eddie Plank Gives Girard College Boys a Happy Half Hour.

"Eddie" Plank, who returned home on Thursday evening from Philadelphia, gave the Junior class of Girard College, a happy time on Friday night when he held an informal reception with them at the Eagle Hotel. The youngsters were brought here to see and enjoy the battlefield but it is safe to say that they had a much happier time when they were with "Eddie" than when they were viewing the historic hills about Gettysburg. They were all eager to have the honor of shaking "Eddie's" hand and were well satisfied when given that privilege. Gettysburg's base ball hero came home quietly, desiring no demonstration, both on account of his usual modesty and still further on account of the recent death of little Harry Davis.

DISMANTLING SHOPS

Franklin County Town Loses Big Manufacturing Plant.

Workmen are now dismantling the Emerson-Brantingham shops, Greencastle, and they will be closed next Wednesday to open no more.

The Greencastle Echo Pilot takes a cheerful view. It says: "Fortunately for Greencastle the prosperity of the town is in no wise dependent upon the operation of this plant, and while, for a time following the practical shut-down of the plant last spring, business was somewhat affected, yet with all those thrown out of work at the plant readily securing work in nearby towns the result of the shops' closing has not, so far at least, been so hard on the town as one might have anticipated."

FINE CONCERT

Concert by Mozart Company was of a High Character.

The concert by the Mozart Company in Brua Chapel on Friday evening was one of the best musical entertainments given in Gettysburg in recent years. The company is composed of four artists and the program was of a decidedly high character. The audience was not large, due probably to the fact that almost no advertising was done. It was the first number of this year's college Y. M. C. A. entertainment course.

ALL members of Battlefield Council 717 O. of I. A. are urged to attend meeting Oct. 20, 7 p. m. Refreshments will be served. Committee.—advertisement 1

TEMPERANCE MEETING

Upper End Temperance Workers Held Meeting this Week.

A meeting of the Arendtsville W. C. T. U. was held Tuesday evening at Friends Meeting House, Flora Dale. Three selections of music were rendered by the Arendtsville High School.

The President gave a short report of the State Convention recently held in Johnstown. The report shows a membership in the state of 30282. Pennsylvania has made the greatest gain during the past year that has ever been made by any state in one year and goes to the National and World's Conventions in the lead in this particular. This large enrollment entitles Pennsylvania to 60 delegates to the National and 30 to the World's Convention. The report further shows that there are six dry counties in the state. The chief address of the evening was made by Rev. F. E. Taylor, of Gettysburg, whose subject was "Social Purity."

Two carloads of clover seed were shipped the other day from Albany, Ore., to Wisconsin buyers, the value of the shipment being $21,000. Some farmers in the vicinity of Albany realized from $4,000 to $5,000 for their crops of clover seed.

Not the least of advantages in giving boys plenty of range on pasture is that the manure products are fully utilized by the soil instead of being largely wasted, as is often the case in dry lot feeding in cramped quarters.

MAY RECOGNIZE MEXICAN REBELS

President Wilson Sends Long Message to Carranza.

PROMPT ACTION DEMANDED

Democrat Urges Congress to Settle Mexican Trouble by Establishing an Armed Protectorate.

Washington, Oct. 18.—That President Wilson is still in communication with General Venustiano Carranza, the leader of the revolutionary movement in Mexico, and that definite steps may soon be taken to recognize the Constitutional government, was the report which seeped through official circles here.

A long message, believed to be looking to this end, was sent to Carranza from the state department.

A bomb shell was exploded in the administration ranks, however, when Representative Sherwood, of Ohio, a strong Democrat and one of the big men of the house, turned on the inactive course of the president and urged the house to settle the Mexican trouble by establishing an armed protectorate.

"A crisis is now on that calls for immediate action on the part of the United States," he said. "One of three courses is open to us; to raise the embargo on arms and encourage the Mexicans in their natural desires to kill each other; to enter the country for armed intervention, or to co-operate with other nations of the world in exercising a control that will allow the establishment of a firm government."

That President Wilson leans toward recognizing the Mexican revolutionists is an open secret in official Washington. Many times he has said he would welcome information as to the purpose of the Constitutionalists, should they become successful at arms, and his trend has been given an impetus by the assumption of dictatorship by Huerta, and his flat violation of his promise to hold an open, fair election.

Specific information regarding their purposes is expected from the rebel chiefs, Carranza in particular, in Washington within the near future. Meanwhile communication between Carranza and the president continues—though the text of the messages is kept carefully secret.

Havana, Oct. 18.—Placards threatening to assassinate General Felix Diaz if he should come ashore were posted throughout the city. The steamer Corcovado, on which he is a passenger, will arrive today.

VICTIM OF HUNTER

Young Man Found Dead on Mountain With Face Full of Shot.

Huntingdon, Pa., Oct. 18.—Roy Garner and Clarence Goodman went out hunting on Short mountain.

Becoming separated, Goodman was unable to find Garner and was compelled to come home without him. As Garner had not returned the next morning, Goodman and Earl Foust, their employer, went in search of him. They found his body in a clearing, lying on the ground, with his face full of shot and his gun filled with shells.

Coroner Schum is convinced that the young man was the victim of criminal carelessness amounting to manslaughter on the part of another hunter, whom the police are trying to find.

BARN AND 79 COWS BURN

Combustion in Alfalfa Mows Caused Big Blaze.

West Chester, Pa., Oct. 18.—A large barn on the 500-acre farm of John Lewis, at Morstein, near Frazer, was destroyed by fire, with all its contents.

The loss is estimated at more than $40,000. Seventy-nine cows perished, each one valued at $100. The origin of the fire is said to have been spontaneous combustion in the alfalfa mows. Mr. Lewis is president of the Academy of the Fine Arts, of Philadelphia.

Dog Adopts Kittens.

New Sharon, N. J., Oct. 18.—A dog belonging to John Haney has adopted three young kittens by forcible means in preference to her own pups, and is now nursing the strange litter. Late last night the master noticed that the dog was neglecting its young and was showing signs of being jealous of the cat. Recently the dog has driven the mother cat from her bed and taken possession.

Christmas Money For Life Savers.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Two checks for $500 each were received by the life saving service from two unnamed women in New York city, who ask that the money be used as Christmas gifts for "our friends along the coast." For seventeen years these sea women have annually contributed a like amount.

Commander Brand Ends Life.

Colchester, Conn., Oct. 18.—Commander Charles A. Brand, U. S. N., retired, committed suicide by shooting in some woods a quarter of a mile from his home. His act was caused, it is believed, by illness on account of which he retired from the navy three years ago. He was forty years old.

Not the least satisfaction that comes with the first hard frost is beholding the hayco which it works on the crab grass, which the morning after looks much as if it had been hit with a stuffed club or, more accurately, scalded in a vat of hot water.

Four Badly Burned In Explosion In Bear Valley Mine.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 18.—In a terrific explosion of gas in the Bear Valley mine of the Reading Coal and Iron company, a number of men were enveloped by a big sheet of flame and terribly burned, one being in a critical condition. The victims:

Bolis Shiposkie, burned about the head, face and hands.

William Rocoskie, burns on the face, neck and head.

Edward Hoffe, burned about hands, arms and neck.

Daniel Macolise, burns of the face, scalp, arms and back; critical.

The men were employed in the west No. 11 vein and had gone into a pillar hole between two of the breasts, when they suddenly encountered a large body of gas, which was ignited by their lamps, and in an instant a terrific explosion occurred.

Miners working in nearby breasts heard the explosion and rushed to the aid of the injured men. The first aid corps was summoned and took the burned men in charge, after which they were taken to the surface.

When the explosion occurred the victims were blown a considerable distance by a strong rush of wind, and when rescuers reached them most of the clothing of several of the victims was found to have been burned from their persons.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH WON'T CHANGE NAME

Committee on Prayer Book Reports No Jurisdiction.

New York, Oct. 18.—Any probability that the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America might be changed at this general convention was disposed of by the house of deputies.

This body adopted a resolution submitted by the committee on prayer book, which found that it was without jurisdiction to act upon resolutions proposing changes in the legal title of the church.

The committee also recommended delay in considering the memorial from the diocese of California referring specifically to a change in the title page of the prayer book.

This question should not be considered, the committee recommended, until disposition had been made of the proposal to amend the constitution so as to require a two-thirds vote to make the change. The proposed amendment has passed the house of deputies and awaits action by the house of bishops.

The house of deputies voted for the introduction of "five minutes of prayerful silence" in the observance of Good Friday at 3 p. m. the hour of the death of Christ. The suggestion originated with the diocese of Pittsburgh.

The chancellors of the various dioceses organized and elected: President, Judge Charles Andrews, western New York; vice president, Gideon C. Wilson, southern Ohio; secretary, George F. Henry, Iowa.

OCEAN BED AT PANAMA SINKS

Subsidence Discovered Following Recent Seismic Tremors.

Panama, Oct. 18.—Reports received here from the center of the recent seismic disturbances indicate that startling changes are taking place in the bed of the ocean off the coast of Los Santos province, in the vicinity of the town of Tonosol.

At one point fifteen miles distant from the mainland, a cable repair ship found that a depth of 1000 feet on the chart of the United States war department, published in 1904, now shows a depth of 5000 feet, indicating that a vast subsidence has taken place.

KILLS HERSELF AND CHILDREN

Destitute Mother Uses Last Quarter For Gas to End Lives.

Chester, Mass., Oct. 18.—Despondent from disease and hunger, Mrs. F. J. Johnson dropped her last 25 cent piece into the gas meter at her home here, and, opening five jets, died with her two children.

Her husband is dying of tuberculosis at a sanitarium. Neighbors found the mother sitting in a chair, with her head bowed over a volume of Browning's poems.

EDWARD A. BAKER

Mt. Pleasant Township Resident Died at His Home.

Edward A. Baker died October 11 at his home in Mt. Pleasant township from a complication of diseases aged 44 years, two months and five days.

He is survived by his wife, who was Alveta Bittle before marriage, and one daughter, Miss Ruth R. Baker, and also by one brother, Maurice Baker, of Mt. Joy township, and three sisters, Mrs. Cora Bair, of Mt. Joy township; Miss Flora Baker, of York, and Mrs. Edith Lowe, of Westminster, Md.

The funeral was held from his late home in Mt. Pleasant township Tuesday morning. Interment at Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown, Rev. Irvin Lau and Rev. F. S. Lindaman officiating.

Feterita, a new forage plant lately introduced into this country from the British Sudan by the department of agriculture and belonging to the sugar cane and Kaffir corn family, gives considerable promise as a crop that will yield well under the conditions prevailing in the semiarid southwest. As grown west of the Mississippi river this past season it has shown good drought resistant qualities and in some instances seems to have been proof against chinch bugs when other crops alongside were consumed. However, the new crop is in the probationary period, and it would be well to try it on a small scale first.

Pride and self conceit are traits that may often be carried to a disagreeable extreme, but a well balanced stock of self respect is a trait which should be studiously cultivated by every young man and young woman who entertains serious hopes of getting anywhere or being anybody in the world. If one has little or no regard for the worth and sacredness of his own personality it is more than likely that there will be a failure to develop traits which will command the respect of one's fellows. When a boy or girl gets an adequate conception of the possibilities that lie open to him, if he only applies himself industriously, there is immediately created an atmosphere in his life that will go a long way toward guaranteeing success.

SULZER OUSTED; NOT DISQUALIFIED

Martin H. Glynn Sworn in as Governor of New York.

GUILTY ON THREE CHARGES

Deposed Governor, Who Is Not Barred
From Holding Office In Future, Declares He Will Continue Fight.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William Sulzer no longer is governor of the state of New York. The high court of impeachment, by a vote of 43 to 12, removed him from office. Senator Wendt and Judge Cullen excused themselves
from voting.

The proposition to disqualify Sulzer
from ever again holding a place of honor or trust in the state was voted down unanimously, with the exception
that Judge Cullen again excused himself from recording his vote.

Prior to the vote on his disqualification and removal the last four articles
of the impeachment charges, five, six,
seven and eight, were unanimously decided in his favor.

Martin H. Glynn, of Albany, the acting governor, became governor; Robert F. Wagner, of New York, majority leader of the senate, became lieutenant governor.

Glynn was sworn in, Judge Cullen
administering the oath of office.

No official notice of removal was given Sulzer. A record of the decision of the court was filed with the secretary of state, thus complying with all the legal requirements to remove the governor.

Pale and haggard, Sulzer sat in the executive mansion awaiting impatiently
the vote of the high court which stripped from him the robes of his office of governor and made him William Sulzer, private citizen.

He has announced to friends that
"the fight has just begun," and declares he will continue the battle for vindication, carrying his cause before the people, who he believes are still
with him despite the verdict given by the impeachment court.

After the proceedings Mr. Sulzer
would see only a few personal friends.
Friends who were with him when he received the news of the verdict said that he appeared to be relieved that
the suspense was over. Mrs. Sulzer, who has been hysterical at times in the last week, was also said to have brightened perceptibly.

Everything at the executive mansion is in readiness for the Sulzer's departure. They will leave Albany on Sunday afternoon not to return. Their immediate destination, it was said,
would be some quiet hotel, probably in the Adirondacks, for a few days.

Where they will make their future
home they have not decided, but Mrs.
Sulzer insists that it shall be within an hour's ride of New York.

The court's disposition of the articles of impeachment follows:

Article 1—Charging the governor
with making a false statement of campaign receipts and payments; guilty, 39; not guilty, 18.

Article 2—Charging him with perjury in swearing that the statement was true; guilty, 39; not guilty, 18.

Article 3—Charging him with bribing witnesses to withhold testimony
from the Frawley committee; not guilty by unanimous vote.

Article 4—Charging him with "practicing deceit and fraud and using threats and menaces" to suppress testimony desired by the Frawley committee; guilty, 43; not guilty, 14.

Article 5—Charging that he dissuaded Frederick L. Colwell from testifying against him before the Frawley investigating committee; not guilty;
vote unanimous.

Article 6—Charging that he committed larceny in speculating with funds contributed to his campaign; not guilty; vote unanimous.

Article 7—Charging that he bartered
his political influence; not guilty; vote unanimous.

Article 8—Charging him with using his official position to influence the price of stocks in which he was interested; not guilty.

SULZER SCORES MURPHY

Declares Impeachment Court Was Controlled by Tammany.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William Sulzer in an "address to the people," given out at the executive mansion, says:
"By virtue of a power, beyond the present control of our electorate, I now hand back to the people the commission they gave me, and I hand it back to them—untrammeled and unsullied."

"My trial, from beginning to end, so far as the Tammanyized part of the court was concerned, was a farce—a political lynching—the consummation
of a deep laid political conspiracy to oust me from office. I am glad it is all over. I am tired of being calumnyed tired of being haunted and hounded;
tired of trying to do my duty and being traduced."

"The court ruled in everything against me, and ruled out everything in my favor. The well settled rules of evidence were thrown to the winds. A horse thief, in frontier days, would have received a squarer deal."

"Mr. Murphy controlled the assembly and 'ordered' the impeachment. He controlled most members of the court
and dictated its procedure and wrote
the judgment. He was the judge and the jury; the prosecutor and the bailliff.

"They called it the high court of impeachment, but history will call it
'Murphy's high court of infamy.' The trial was a human shambles; a libel
on law; a flagrant abuse of constitutional rights; a disgrace to our civilization; and the verdict overturned the safeguards of liberty and the precedents of three centuries. The judgment will not stand the test of time.
The future historian will do me justice, and posterity will reverse the findings of the court."

"There is a higher court than Murphy's—the court of public opinion. I appeal from Murphy's court of political passion to the calmer judgment of the future, and the sober reflection of public opinion."

"When I declined to obey the 'orders' of the 'boss' about patronage;
when I refused to call off Hennessey and prevent further investigations of graft, and finally when I set in motion the wheels of the machinery
of the courts to bring the criminals
to justice and to stop the looting of
the state, then, and not until then, did
Mr. Murphy threaten me with degradation and with removal from office.
From that day to this all that
money, all that power, all that influence can do to disgrace me, and destroy me, has been done."

"Mr. Murphy and the special interests, while antagonized, have won a temporary victory; but the fight for reform and for honest government will go on. The force of my trial will have a good effect in the end. It has opened the eyes of the people to graft of millions of dollars annually; and it will hasten the adoption of the initiative and the referendum; bring about the recall of public officials, including judges and judicial decisions; and write upon the statute books other reforms, especially a direct primary law,
so that the voters, instead of the
bosses, will nominate, as well as elect,
all officials to public office."

"As to the governor, I have been honest and faithful to my trust. No influence could control me in the performance of my duty but the dictates of my conscience. I have lost my office, but I have kept my self-respect. I could rather lose the governorship than lose my soul; and no governor
can serve God and mammon; the state and the special interests; the people and the boss; the visible and the invisible government."

"Let us indulge the hope that my
loss of the governorship will be the people's gain. Misfortunes are often blessings in disguise. If my undoing is an arrogant and corrupt and desperate 'boss' shall be the humble
means of forever destroying 'bossism'
in the state of New York, I shall be content, and feel that I have not struggled in vain for better things."

Mr. Sulzer concludes his statement by saying that he is $75,000 in debt, besides the cost of his defense, and that his only asset is $11,000 in cash.

70,000 Volts Pass Through Body.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 18.—Falling to shut off the current before he mounted
a giant transformer in the sub-station
of the Pennsylvania Water and Power company, on the Philadelphia road, Highlandtown, Walter Loechel, aged twenty-three years, was instantly killed when 70,000 volts of electricity passed through his body. The high current set his clothing on fire and he was burned to death.

Preacher Hangs Self In Stable.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 18.—Rev. S. S.
Daugherty, formerly pastor of the United Brethren church at Elizabethtown, committed suicide there while despondent, by hanging himself in a stable. Rev. Mr. Daugherty recently had been transferred to Reading and
was preparing to leave for that place when he ended his life. He is survived by his widow and two children.

Hold Postmaster For Theft.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 18.—Abner J.
Wetzel, postmaster at Willow Street,
Lancaster county, was held in $1000
bail by United States Commissioner
Lowell to answer the charge of embezzling $350 of postoffice funds. Wet-zel, it is said, used the money in his store business.

27 DIE WHEN AIRSHIP EXPLODES

German Dirigible Took Fire
While Up 900 Feet.

ONLY ONE FOUND ALIVE

New Flier, Carrying Military and Naval
Officers, Crashes to Earth a Mass
of Flames.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—The newest and
largest of the Zeppelin war airships, the L-11, was destroyed in mid-air by an explosion.

All except one of the twenty-eight military and naval men on board, including the engine admiral trial board, were killed.

Shortly after the disaster to the navy aviation men came news that three army officers belonging to the flying corps were killed in aeroplane accidents.

The disaster to the L-11 occurred just above the main street of the city of Johannisthal while the big dirigible, 500 feet long, was making a trial trip preliminary to its acceptance as the flagship of the new German aerial navy. The shattered hulk of the airship, a mass of blazing canvass and crumpled aluminum, dropped 900 feet
into the public highway.

Hundreds of persons, who had been watching the flight from parks and house-tops, rushed to the scene. There was nothing to be done except to take out the bodies of the victims from the mass of twisted wreckage.

Lieutenant Baron von Bleul, of the Queen Augusta Grenadier Guards, who was making the trip as a guest, was the only survivor of the wreck. He was badly injured, and his condition is critical. Many of the bodies were so burned and mangled as to be unrecognizable.

The dirigible, just before she left the balloon hall, at Johannisthal, took on board her regular naval crew and a number of officers. She headed for Berlin, a short distance away, in a light wind. About a dozen aviators were circling the aerodrome at the time in aeroplanes.

Everything was apparently in good order on the airship. She was gradually getting up speed when suddenly
an explosion was heard by those on the ground, evidently in one of the motors in the center gondola. A flash shot out and the next instant the entire ship was afire and plunging downward. Every inch of canvass covering and the balloons disappeared in a moment.

A second and more violent explosion
was then heard, the fire having reached the gasoline tanks filled with about two tons of liquid fuel. Before the echoes of the explosion had died down
the wreck of the most modern of Germany's dirigibles lay a flaming mass
on the ground.

The fire departments of all the neighboring suburbs, with detachments
of the balloon corps, the pioneers and
other troops were soon on the spot,
but there was nothing left to save.

The balloon lay in a great curve like
a letter "S," a mass of glowing wires and tangled girders. The cylinders of the motors in the center gondola and one of the after propellers could be distinguished. Otherwise there was nothing to indicate that the debris
was that of Germany's proudest airship.

Pioneers armed with axes hacked at the wreckage for two hours before they extricated the last of the bodies of the victims. The dead were borne upon stretchers to the balloon hall and a company of soldiers roped off the place
to keep back the crowd.

The six inmates of the center gondola had been blown through the sides of the car by the first explosion and their bodies fell a quarter of a mile away from the wreck of the balloon, which was traveling at forty miles an hour when the accident happened. All the others, except two, were apparently killed by the explosion of the gasoline tank, and were probably dead before the wreckage reached the earth.

The commander and members of the admiralty trial board were seated in the officers' gondola. After the fire started they were caged inside a network of red-hot girders.

Two of the crew were alive when rescuers reached the wreckage. One of them, however, died before he was extricated. The other, Lieutenant Baron von Bleul, was desperately injured. Both his eyes were burned out.
He urged the rescuers to kill him.

Chinese Brigands Murder 300.

Pekin, Oct. 18.—Chinese brigands under General Hwang Liang have murdered 300 people in the province of Fokien and burned two mission
churches, believed to be the property of American missionary societies.
American missionaries from the district are still in Fuchow, where they took refuge during the recent troubles.
Government troops sent against the brigands have not shown much activity.

Train Kills Schoolgirl.

Audubon, N. J., Oct. 18.—Marion
Fish, seven years old, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Robert T. Fish, of Logan avenue, Orston, was struck and killed by an Atlantic City railroad express train while on her way home from school.
The little girl tried to cross the tracks
at an unprotected grade crossing.

FOR SALE: typewriter, practically

Two carloads of clover seed were shipped the other day from Albany, Ore., to Wisconsin buyers, the value of the shipment being $21,000. Some farmers in the vicinity of Albany realized from $4,000 to $5,000 for their crops of clover seed.

Not the least advantages in giving hogs plenty of range on pasture is that the manurial products are fully utilized by the soil instead of being largely wasted, as is often the case in dry lot feeding in cramped quarters.

President Wilson Sends Long Message to Carranza.

PROMPT ACTION DEMANDED

Democrat Urges Congress to Settle Mexican Trouble by Establishing an Armed Protectorate.

Washington, Oct. 18.—That President Wilson is still in communication with General Venustiano Carranza, the leader of the revolutionary movement in Mexico, and that definite steps may soon be taken to recognize the Constitutional government, was the report which seeped through official circles here.

A long message, believed to be looking to this end, was sent to Carranza from the state department.

A bomb shell was exploded in the administration ranks, however, when Representative Sherwood, of Ohio, a strong Democrat and one of the big men of the house, turned on the inactive course of the president and urged the house to settle the Mexican trouble by establishing an armed protectorate.

"A crisis is now on that calls for immediate action on the part of the United States," he said. "One of three courses is open to us; to raise the embargo on arms and encourage the Mexicans in their natural desires to kill each other; to enter the country for armed intervention, or to co-operate with other nations of the world in exercising a control that will allow the establishment of a firm government."

That President Wilson leans toward recognizing the Mexican revolutionists is an open secret in official Washington. Many times he has said he would welcome information as to the purpose of the Constitutionalists, should they become successful at arms, and his trend has been given an impetus by the assumption of dictatorship by Huerta, and his flat violation of his promise to hold an open, fair election.

Specific information regarding their purposes is expected from the rebel chiefs, Carranza in particular, in Washington within the near future. Meanwhile communication between Carranza and the president continues—though the text of the messages is kept carefully secret.

Threaten Diaz's Life.

Havana, Oct. 18.—Placards threatening to assassinate General Felix Diaz if he should come ashore were posted throughout the city. The steamer Corcavado, on which he is a passenger, will arrive today.

VICTIM OF HUNTER

Young Man Found Dead on Mountain With Face Full of Shot.

Huntingdon, Pa., Oct. 18.—Roy Garner and Clarence Goodman went out hunting on Short mountain.

Becoming separated, Goodman was unable to find Garner and was compelled to come home without him. As Garner had not returned the next morning, Goodman and Earl Foust, their employer, went in search of him. They found his body in a clearing, lying on the ground, with his face full of shot and his gun filled with shells.

Coroner Schum is convinced that the young man was the victim of criminal carelessness amounting to manslaughter on the part of another hunter, whom the police are trying to find.

BARN AND 79 COWS BURN

Combustion in Alfalfa Mows Caused Big Blaze.

West Chester, Pa., Oct. 18.—A large barn on the 50-acre farm of John Lewis, at Morstein, near Frazer, was destroyed by fire, with all its contents.

The loss is estimated at more than $40,000. Seventy-nine cows perished, each one valued at $100. The origin of the fire is said to have been spontaneous combustion in the alfalfa mows. Mr. Lewis is president of the Academy of the Fine Arts, of Philadelphia.

Dog Adopts Kittens.

New Sharon, N. J., Oct. 18.—A dog belonging to John Haney has adopted three young kittens by forcible means in nursing to her own pups, and is now nursing the strange litter. Late yesterday the master noticed that the dog was neglecting its young and was showing signs of being jealous of the cat. Recently the dog has driven the mother cat from her bed and taken possession.

Christmas Money For Life Savers.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Two checks for $500 each were received by the life saving service from two unnamed women in New York city, who ask that the money be used as Christmas gifts for "our friends along the coast." For seventeen years these two women have annually contributed a like amount.

Commander Brand Ends Life.

Colchester, Conn., Oct. 18.—Commander Charles A. Brand, U. S. N., retired, committed suicide by shooting in some woods a quarter of a mile from his home. His act was caused, it is believed, by illness on account of which he retired from the navy three years ago. He was forty years old.

Not the least satisfaction that comes with the first hard frost is beholding the havoc which it works on the crab grass, which the morning after looks much as if it had been hit with a stuffed club or, more accurately, scalded in a vat of hot water.

Four Badly Burned in Explosion in Bear Valley Mine.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 18.—In a terrific explosion of gas in the Bear Valley mine of the Reading Coal and Iron company, a number of men were enveloped by a big sheet of flame and terribly burned, one being in a critical condition. The victims:

Bolis Shpiroskie, burned about the head, face and hands.

William Roccoskie, burns on the face, neck and head.

Edward Hoffe, burned about hands, arms and neck.

Daniel Macolise, burns of the face, scalp, arms and back; critical.

The men were employed in the west No. 11 vein and had gone into a pillar hole between two of the breasts, when they suddenly encountered a large body of gas, which was ignited by their lamps, and in an instant a terrific explosion occurred.

Miners working in nearby breasts heard the explosion and rushed to the aid of the injured men. The first aid corps was summoned and took the burned men in charge, after which they were taken to the surface.

When the explosion occurred the victims were blown a considerable distance by a strong rush of wind, and when rescuers reached them most of the clothing of several of the victims was found to have been burned from their persons.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH WON'T CHANGE NAME

Committee on Prayer Book Reports No Jurisdiction.

New York, Oct. 18.—Any probability that the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America might be changed at this general convention was disposed of by the house of deputies.

This body adopted a resolution submitted by the committee on prayer book, which found that it was without jurisdiction to act upon resolutions proposing changes in the legal title of the church.

The committee also recommended delay in considering the memorial from the diocese of California referring specifically to a change in the title page of the prayer book.

This question should not be considered, the committee recommended, until disposition had been made of the proposal to amend the constitution so as to require a two-thirds vote to make the change. The proposed amendment has passed the house of deputies and awaits action by the house of bishops.

The house of deputies voted for the introduction of "five minutes of prayerful silence" in the observance of Good Friday at 3 p. m., the hour of the death of Christ. The suggestion originated with the diocese of Pittsburgh.

The chancellors of the various dioceses organized and elected: President, Judge Charles Andrews, western New York; vice president, Gleason C. Wilson, southern Ohio; secretary, George F. Henry, Iowa.

OCEAN BED AT PANAMA SINKS

Subsidence Discovered Following Recent Seismic Tremors.

Panama, Oct. 18.—Reports received here from the center of the recent seismic disturbances indicate that startling changes are taking place in the bed of the ocean off the coast of Los Santos province, in the vicinity of the town of Tonosil.

At one point fifteen miles distant from the mainland, a cable repair ship found that a depth of 1000 feet on the chart of the United States war department, published in 1904, now shows a depth of 5000 feet, indicating that a vast subsidence has taken place.

KILLS HERSELF AND CHILDREN

Destitute Mother Uses Last Quarter For Gas to End Lives.

Chelsea, Mass., Oct. 18.—Despondent from disease and hunger, Mrs. F. J. Johnson dropped her last 25 cent piece into the gas meter at her home here, and, opening five jets, died with her two children.

Her husband is dying of tuberculosis at a sanitarium. Neighbors found the mother sitting in a chair, with her head bowed over a volume of Browning's poems.

EDWARD A. BAKER

Mt. Pleasant Township Resident Died at His Home.

Edward A. Baker died October 11 at his home in Mt. Pleasant township from a complication of diseases aged 44 years, two months and five days.

He is survived by his wife, who was Alvretta Bittle before marriage, and one daughter, Miss Ruth R. Baker, and also by one brother, Maurice Baker, of Mt. Joy township, and three sisters, Mrs. Cora Bair, of Mt. Joy township; Miss Flora Baker, of York, and Mrs. Edith Lowe, of Westminster, Md.

The funeral was held from his late home in Mt. Pleasant township Tuesday morning, interment at Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown, Rev. Irvin Lau and Rev. F. S. Lindaman officiating.

Feterita, a new forage plant lately introduced into this country from the British Sudan by the department of agriculture and belonging to the sugar cane and Kaffir corn family, gives considerable promise as a crop that will yield well under the conditions prevailing in the semiarid southwest.

As grown west of the Mississippi river the past season it has shown good drought resistant qualities and in some instances seems to have been proof against chinch bugs when other crops alongside were consumed. However, the new crop is in the probationary period, and it would be well to try it on a small scale first.

Pride and self conceit are traits that may often be carried to a disagreeable extreme, but a well balanced stock of self respect is a trait which should be studiously cultivated by every young man and young woman who entertains serious hopes of getting anywhere or being anybody in the world. If one has little or no regard for the worth and sacredness of his own personality it is more than likely that there will be a failure to develop traits which will command the respect of one's fellows. When a boy or girl gets an adequate conception of the possibilities that lie open to him, if he only applies himself industriously, there is immediately created an atmosphere in his life that will go a long way toward guaranteeing success.

Martin H. Glynn Sworn in as Governor of New York.

Deposed Governor, Who Is Not Barred
From Holding Office In Future, Declares He Will Continue Fight.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William Sul-
zer no longer is governor of the state of New York. The high court of impeachment, by a vote of 43 to 12, removed him from office. Senator Wendt
and Judge Cullen excused themselves
from voting.

The proposition to disqualify Sulzer
from ever again holding a place of
honor or trust in the state was voted
down unanimously, with the exception
that Judge Cullen again excused himself from recording his vote.

Prior to the vote on his disqualifica-
tion and removal the last four articles
of the impeachment charges, five, six,
seven and eight, were unanimously decided in his favor.

Martin H. Glynn, of Albany, the acting governor, became governor; Robert
F. Wagner, of New York, majority leader of the senate, became lieutenant governor.

Glynn was sworn in, Judge Cullen
administering the oath of office.

No official notice of removal was given Sulzer. A record of the decision of the court was filed with the secretary of state, thus complying with all
the legal requirements to remove the governor.

Pale and haggard, Sulzer sat in the executive mansion awaiting impatiently
the vote of the high court which
stripped from him the robes of his
office of governor and made him William Sulzer, private citizen.

He has announced to friends that
"the fight has just begun," and declares he will continue the battle for
vindication, carrying his cause before
the people, who he believes are still
with him despite the verdict given by the impeachment court.

After the proceedings Mr. Sulzer
would see only a few personal friends.
Friends who were with him when he
received the news of the verdict said
that he appeared to be relieved that
the suspense was over. Mrs. Sulzer,
who has been hysterical at times in
brightened perceptibly.

Everything at the executive mansion is in readiness for the Sulzer's departure. They will leave Albany on Sunday afternoon not to return. Their
immediate destination, it was said,
would be some quiet hotel, probably in
the Adirondacks, for a few days.

Where they will make their future
home they have not decided, but Mrs.
Sulzer insists that it shall be within
an hour's ride of New York.

The court's disposition of the articles of impeachment follows:

Article 1—Charging the governor
with making a false statement of campaign receipts and payments; guilty, 39; not guilty, 18.

Article 2—Charging him with per-
jury in swearing that the statement
was true; guilty, 39; not guilty, 18.

Article 3—Charging him with brib-
ing witnesses to withhold testimony
from the Frawley committee; not guilty by unanimous vote.

Article 4—Charging him with "practicing deceit and fraud and using
threats and menaces" to suppress testimony desired by the Frawley committee; guilty, 43; not guilty, 14.

Article 5—Charging that he dissuaded Frederick L. Colwell from testifying against him before the Frawley investigating committee; not guilty;
vote unanimous.

Article 6—Charging that he committed larceny in speculating with funds
contributed to his campaign; not guilty; vote unanimous.

Article 7—Charging that he bartered
his political influence; not guilty; vote
unanimous.

Article 8—Charging him with using
his official position to influence the price of stocks in which he was interested; not guilty.

SULZER SCORES MURPHY

Declares Impeachment Court Was Controlled by Tammany.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William Sulzer in an "address to the people," given out at the executive mansion, says:
"By virtue of a power, beyond the
present control of our electorate, I
now hand back to the people the commission they gave me, and I hand it
back to them—untrammeled and un-
sullied."

"My trial, from beginning to end, so far as the Tammanyized part of the
court was concerned, was a farce—a political lynching—the consummation
of a deep laid political conspiracy to oust me from office. I am glad it is all over. I am tired of being calumnyed
tired of being haunted and hounded;
tired of trying to do my duty and being traduced."

"The court ruled in everything
against me, and ruled out everything
in my favor. The well settled rules of evidence were thrown to the winds. A horse thief, in frontier days, would
have received a squarer deal."

"Mr. Murphy controlled the assembly and 'ordered' the impeachment. He controlled most members of the court
and dictated its procedure and wrote
the judgment. He was the judge and the jury; the prosecutor and the bailiff.

"They called it the high court of impeachment, but history will call it
'Murphy's high court of infamy.' The
trial was a human shambles; a libel
on law; a flagrant abuse of constitutional rights; a disgrace to our civilization; and the verdict overturned the safeguards of liberty and the precedents of three centuries. The judgment will not stand the test of time.
The future historian will do me justice, and posterity will reverse the
findings of the court."

"There is a higher court than Murphy's—the court of public opinion. I appeal from Murphy's court of political passion to the calmer judgment of the future, and the sober reflection of
public opinion."

"When I declined to obey the 'orders' of the 'boss' about patronage;
when I refused to call off Hennessy
and prevent further investigations of graft, and finally when I set
in motion the wheels of the machinery
of the courts to bring the criminals
to justice and to stop the looting of
the state, then, and not until then, did
Mr. Murphy threaten me with degradation and with removal from office.
From that day to this all that
money, all that power, all that influence can do to disgrace me, and destroy me, has been done."

"Mr. Murphy and the special interests, while antagonized, have won a
temporary victory; but the fight for
reform and for honest government will go on. The force of my trial will have a good effect in the end. It has opened the eyes of the people to graft of
millions of dollars annually; and it
will hasten the adoption of the initiative and the referendum; bring about
the recall of public officials, including
judges and judicial decisions; and
write upon the statute books other reforms, especially a direct primary law,
so that the voters, instead of the
bosses, will nominate, as well as elect,
all officials to public office."

"As to the governor, I have been
honest and faithful to my trust. No influence could control me in the performance of my duty but the dictates
of my conscience. I have lost my office, but I have kept my self-respect. I would rather lose the governorship
than lose my soul; and no governor
can serve God and mammon; the state
and the special interests; the people
and the boss; the visible and the invisible government."

"Let us indulge the hope that my
loss of the governorship will be the
people's gain. Misfortunes are often blessings in disguise. If my undoing from an arrogant and corrupt and deperate 'boss' shall be the humble
means of forever destroying 'bossism'
in the state of New York, I shall be
content, and feel that I have not struggled in vain for better things."

Mr. Sulzer concludes his statement
by saying that he is $75,000 in debt,
besides the cost of his defense, and
that his only asset is $11,000 in cash.

70,000 Volts Pass Through Body.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 18.—Failing to shut off the current before he mounted
a giant transformer in the sub-station
of the Pennsylvania Water and Power
company, on the Philadelphia road, Highlandtown, Walter Loebel, aged
twenty-three years, was instantly killed when 70,000 volts of electricity
passed through his body. The high current set his clothing on fire and he
was burned to death.

Preacher Hangs Self in Stable.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 18.—Rev. S. S.
Daugherty, formerly pastor of the United Brethren church at Elliptitown, committed suicide there while despondent, by hanging himself in a stable. Rev. Mr. Daugherty recently had been transferred to Reading and
was preparing to leave for that place
when he ended his life. He is survived by his widow and two children.

Hold Postmaster For Theft.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 18.—Abner J.
Wetzel, postmaster at Willow Street,
Lancaster county, was held in $1000
bail by United States Commissioner
Lowell to answer the charge of embezzling $350 of postoffice funds. Wet-zel, it is said, used the money in his store business.

German Dirigible took Fire
While Up 900 Feet.

ONLY ONE FOUND ALIVE

New Flier, Carrying Military and Naval
Officers, Crashes to Earth a Mass
of Flames.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—The newest and
largest of the Zeppelin war airships, the L.H., was destroyed in mid-air by an explosion.

All except one of the twenty-eight
military and naval men on board, including the engine admiralty trial
board, were killed.

Shortly after the disaster to the navy aviation men came news that
three army officers belonging to the
flying corps were killed in aeroplane accidents.

The disaster to the L.H. occurred
just above the main street of the city
of Johannisthal while the big dirigible,
500 feet long, was making a trial trip
preliminary to its acceptance as the
flagship of the new German aerial
navy. The shattered hulk of the airship, a mass of blazing canvass and
crumpled aluminum, dropped 900 feet
into the public highway.

Hundreds of persons, who had been
watching the flight from parks and
house-tops, rushed to the scene. There was nothing to be done except to take
out the bodies of the victims from the
mass of twisted wreckage.

Lieutenant Baron von Bleul, of the Queen Augusta Grenadier Guards, who
was making the trip as a guest, was
the only survivor of the wreck. He
was badly injured, and his condition is
critical. Many of the bodies were so burned and mangled as to be unrecognizable.

The dirigible, just before she left the
balloon hall, at Johannisthal, took on board her regular naval crew and a number of officers. She headed for Berlin, a short distance away, in a light
wind. About a dozen aviators were circling the aerodrome at the time in aeroplanes.

Everything was apparently in good order on the airship. She was gradually getting up speed when suddenly
an explosion was heard by those on
the ground, evidently in one of the
motors in the center gondola. A flash
shot out and the next instant the entire ship was afire and plunging downward. Every inch of canvass covering and the balloons disappeared in a moment.

A second and more violent explosion
was then heard, the fire having reached the gasoline tanks filled with about
two tons of liquid fuel. Before the echoes of the explosion had died down
the wreck of the most modern of Germany's dirigibles lay a flaming mass
on the ground.

The fire departments of all the
neighboring suburbs, with detachments
of the balloon corps, the pioneers and
other troops were soon on the spot,
but there was nothing left to save.

The balloon lay in a great curve like
a letter "S," a mass of glowing wires
and tangled girders. The cylinders of
the motors in the center gondola and
one of the after propellers could be distinguished. Otherwise there was nothing to indicate that the debris
was that of Germany's proudest air-
ship.

Pioneers armed with axes hacked at
the wreckage for two hours before they
extricated the last of the bodies of the victims. The dead were borne upon stretchers to the balloon hall and a company of soldiers roped off the place
to keep back the crowd.

The six inmates of the center gon-
dola had been blown through the sides
of the car by the first explosion and
their bodies fell a quarter of a mile
away from the wreck of the balloon,
which was traveling at forty miles an hour when the accident happened. All
the others, except two, were apparently killed by the explosion of the gasoline tank, and were probably dead before the wreckage reached the earth.

The commander and members of the
admiralty trial board were seated in
the officers' gondola. After the fire started they were caged inside a network of red-hot girders.

Two of the crew were alive when
rescuers reached the wreckage. One of them, however, died before he was extricated. The other, Lieutenant Baron von Bleul, was desperately injured. Both his eyes were burned out.
He urged the rescuers to kill him.

Chinese Brigands Murder 300.

Pekin, Oct. 18.—Chinese brigands under General Hwang Llang have murdered 300 people in the province of Fokien and burned two mission
churches, believed to be the property
of American missionary societies.
American missionaries from the district are still in Fuchow, where they
took refuge during the recent troubles.
Government troops sent against the brigands have not shown much activity.

Train Kills Schoolgirl.

Audubon, N. J., Oct. 18.—Marion
Fish, seven years old, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Robert T. Fish, of Logan avenue, Orston, was struck and killed by
an Atlantic City railroad express train
while on her way home from school.
The little girl tried to cross the tracks
at an unprotected grade crossing.

Most Farmers

Do not object to their neighbors and friends hunting on their land or to any others who have due regard for their property, but all farmers do object to the hunter who tramples down grain, tears down fences and does damage. The surest way to protect yourself is to placard your property. Cardboard trespass signs 5 cents each, 6 for 25c; muslin signs 10c each, 3 for 25c. And in order to keep undesirable hunters from coming out to your land and possibly disregard such signs, the best thing you could do would be to place your name in our trespass list. Fifty cents for the entire season.
